

The RAND Corporation
 www.rand.org
 1776 Main Street
 Santa Monica, CA 90401
 310-393-0411 | Fax: 310-393-4818

A nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that offers solutions to policy utilizing analytical fact-based research. Over half of their staff of 1800 people hold doctorates and collectively speak 71 languages. They address global as well as domestic issues.

Armour, Philip Associate Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD in economics • Researches Disability Insurance and Social Security
Hurd, Michael D. Senior Principal Researcher	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director of the RAND Center for the Study of Aging • PhD in economics • Researches Geriatrics, Labor Markets, Personal Savings, and Social Security • Focuses on the structure of private pensions and Social Security effects on retirement decisions and the economic status of the elderly • Most recent research on monetary costs of dementia and the costs of long-term care
Kapteyn, Arie Adjunct Senior Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD in economics • Researches labor markets, personal savings, retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security • Associate Director of the Financial Literacy Center and Fellow of the Econometric Society • Previously President of the European Society for Population Economics, Chair in Econometrics at Tilburg University, and Founder and Director of CentER, CentERdata and CentER Applied Research
Knapp, David Associate Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD in economics • Researches retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security • Specializes in computational methods such as simulated moments for estimating complex economic models • Current research studies effect of Social Security's Spouse and Survivor's Benefits on the labor supply and benefit claiming decisions of households
Maestas, Nicole Senior Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Director of the RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging • PhD in economics • Researches health economics, retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security • Focuses on work after retirement, work disincentive effects of SSDI, and the effect of Medicare on health care utilization
Meijer, Erik Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD in social sciences • Researches the elderly, health disparities, health economics, retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security
Mullen, Kathleen J. Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • PhD in economics • Researches health economics, retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security • Focuses work on the incentive effects of social insurance programs • Studied the effects of change in Social Security incentives in other countries for workers in old ages and what those findings suggest about reforms in the U.S.
Rohwedder, Susann Senior Economist	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Associate Director for the RAND Center for the Study of Aging • PhD in economics • Researches geriatrics, households, personal finance, personal wealth, retirement and retirement benefits, and Social Security • Has written extensively on Social Security and spending and saving in old age, and • Research compares saving and retirement across the U.S. and several European countries.